

COMMERCIAL LAWYER, KAIAPOI – CORCORAN FRENCH

Corcoran French is known for its great workplace culture, and we're justifiably proud of this. You'll find that we're supportive, progressive, flexible and an all-round great bunch of people in a great workplace. We look after each other and enjoy each other's company, while fostering growth, career development and progression, and a great work-life balance. Our partners are approachable, inclusive and are focused on ensuring each of the team is supported, achieves their goals and reaches their potential. In short, at Corcoran French, you really matter.

We're a well-established and progressive medium sized firm, with offices in Christchurch, Kaiapoi and Greymouth. With 10 partners and more than 70 staff, we care about maintaining and growing a cohesive team who work alongside our clients to guarantee the best possible outcome.

Sometimes the opportunity comes along to be part of something really special, and this is one of those times. Our Kaiapoi-based Commercial team has a sought-after space for a great lawyer to join its ranks.

Working alongside our commercial and property partners, our successful, established and growing Kaiapoi team works across a range of matters, including rural, subdivisions, commercial, conveyancing, wills and trusts.

If you're an experienced, innovative and energetic mid to senior level lawyer, then we want to speak with you about this opportunity.

Working alongside supportive partners, you'll:

- Enter the firm at a level suitable to your experience, with serious opportunities for progression there if you're interested
- Work closely with accessible and supportive partners
- Enjoy significant client contact and varied, interesting work
- Work alongside a genuinely great team
- Enjoy significant professional support and development
- Have the opportunity for flexible work arrangements

Ideally, you will have 4+ years' PQE and will be experienced in a range of matters. Motivated and ambitious, you'll thrive on being able to work autonomously and on being able to develop and grow client relationships and business; delivering results, while instilling confidence.

This is a great opportunity for an applicant with experience, enthusiasm and initiative to join a well-structured firm that genuinely values and cares for its people.

Please get in touch with Jo Yusaf, our HR Manager – jo@cflaw.co.nz. We'll treat all contact confidentially and are keen to discuss this role with you.